

TRANSPORT DOOR SOLUTIONS LOOKING TO CONNECT AT EURO BUS EXPO

Making their way to this year's Euro Bus Expo at the NEC Birmingham will be Transport Door Solutions (TDS), a key bus door part supplier to the UK and international market since 2006. The team at TDS work cross-platform, providing new and old spare parts for a wide range of door manufacturers, including Deans, Overton, Peters, TDS & Ventura Systems (BCE, Bode & Masats). TDS will be present on the stand of Ventura Systems, as TDS is both Ventura's UK agent and partly-owned by Ventura too.

"Attending Euro Bus will be an excellent opportunity for us to connect with new and existing customers alongside our Dutch partners at Ventura, a popular supplier to UK bodybuilders who will be showcasing their latest technology," said Paul Rossington, Managing Director, TDS, speaking exclusively to FACTS. "We relish the opportunity to meet event attendees and encourage all interested parties to come to stand B84 and have a coffee and a chat about how best we can work together." Now in their 13th year of trading, TDS have amassed a comprehensive part cross reference database, which includes over 5000 active catalogued parts. Hosted on the TDS website, categorised PDF image sheets prove to be an invaluable repository of information, allowing users to search for and source everything from the most common bearings and fittings to the some of the most bespoke fabricated door components.

"These visual aides, combined with our expertise gleaned over many years, represents the core of our value to the market," commented Paul. "We are constantly adding new part information, images, data sheets to make it the go-to web portal for bus door parts."

TDS maintain a dedicated and growing customer base of over 1300 customers. This includes major UK bus and coach manufacturers supplying vehicles in their thousands to smaller, specialist outfits searching for workable solutions to their lower volume requirements. The loyalty of the TDS customer base can in large part be attributed to the firm's excellent customer service capabilities and reliable delivery performance.

"We consistently work to expand our capabilities for the benefit of our customers. Responding to customer demands by tracking down obscure parts from many years ago is an important part of our service. The more comprehensive our data sheets are, the easier it is for our clients to track down the parts they need to keep their fleets moving," said Paul.

All interested Euro Bus Expo attendees can meet TDS representatives at the Ventura Systems stand B84 on Tuesday 30 October-Thursday 1 November at the NEC Birmingham.
